REPORT NO.

1. On Russian orders, dismantling of the lignite and briquette works of the Deutsche Erdöl A.G. in Rositz near Altenburg, Thuringia, was begun in June 1948. According to Russian statements, the plant was to be rebuilt in Germany east of the Elbe, but German offices believe that it will actually be shipped to Russia, since it was one of the most modern and recent lignite plants in the Altenburg area.
